MAYOR’S CORNER

As we go through this upset condition, who would have anticipated that it would take this long. Port Alice is doing its part and hopefully we will be out of this sooner than later.

Celebrating Volunteer Week, it’s important to remember that our Village would not be the place it is without our various groups. One Volunteer group that is underappreciated is our Fire Department. Thank you for all your hard work. Retiring member Wayne Beckett has served for 40 years on the department. Thank you Wayne for your dedication and service to Port Alice.

The Village will be conducting a number of infrastructure repairs and projects this summer. We ask for your patience and apologize for any disruptions.

Some great news for the Village is the number of new businesses opening. I know we will get behind them and support their businesses.

Fortunately, our Village has been able to secure some long deserved grant monies. This will enrich our way of life.

MAYOR CAMERON

Public Works Week

Notice Regarding Village of Port Alice Transfer Station

The Village of Port Alice provides its residents with access to the solid waste transfer station at no charge. Unfortunately, this free service may have to stop due to people who put prohibited items in the bins.

Any bin that contains drywall, cardboard, appliances with CFCs, electronics, batteries, paint, tires or oil taken to the 7 Mile Landfill will be charged at $250.00 per tonne for the entire load. This can result in an average charge of $2,500.00 per bin.

The Village of Port Alice does not have funds to pay for these charges. If prohibited items continue to be put into the bins at the transfer station, we will need to either close the transfer station or pay an employee to supervise drop offs. Paying an employee will result in the doubling of annual garbage fees as well tipping fees being imposed.

Please read the signs and follow directions. This is especially important for new residents who may not be familiar with how the transfer station works.

Black Bear

The American black bear (Ursus americanus) is the most common and widely distributed of the three bears found in Canada. British Columbia has some of the highest populations of black bears in the world with estimates ranging from 120 to 150 thousand animals. Most of BC is considered “bear country” with bears living in coastal temperate rainforests as well as the dry interior.

Black bears are omnivorous mammals with vegetation making up about 80% of their diet. When bears emerge from their dens in April, they seek out lush greens such as grasses, sedges, horsetails and other protein-rich fresh growth. They are one of the few animals that will feed on the tubers of skunk cabbage. Once berries ripen, bears will switch to these high calorie foods.

Bears have a sense of smell far greater than that of dogs and can locate food over one kilometre away. Their eyesight and hearing is as good, or better, than humans. The myth that bears have poor eyesight has likely arisen from the habit to standing as if to get a better look. What is more likely is that the bear is standing to pick up a scent.

Black bears tend to be solitary animals except for females raising cubs, individuals congregating around food sources, or during mating season in late June. Several bears may try to mate with a female and she may have a litter of offspring from different males. If a female has cubs, she will avoid male bears that may try to kill them in order to mate with her.

BC Wildlife Act Fines

Section 33.1 of the BC Wildlife Act makes it an offense to attract dangerous wildlife to land or premises. A person can be liable to a $230 fine, or can be compelled through a Dangerous Wildlife Protection Order (DWPO) to clean up their attractants. If the person does not comply with the DWPO then they are liable to a $575 fine.
