The Community Paramedicine Initiative

BC Emergency Health Services (BCEHS) has worked with the Ministry of Health, regional health authorities, the Ambulance Paramedics of British Columbia (Local 873), the First Nations Health Authority, and others to implement the Community Paramedicine Program.

The goal of seeing 80 new full-time equivalents (FTEs) hired to support community paramedicine programs in rural and remote communities has been achieved.

Program objectives:

- Contribute to the stabilization of paramedic staffing in rural and remote communities.
- Bridge health service delivery gaps in the community, identified in collaboration with local primary care teams.

Implementing Community Paramedicine

Implementation began in April 2015 with nine prototype communities in the Northern, Interior, and Vancouver Island Health Authorities.

A provincial rollout began in April 2016 with the selection of 76 communities, with coverage including surrounding regions and neighbouring First Nations communities.

The final phase of implementation began in January 2018 with the selection of 23 additional communities, the introduction of rural advanced care community paramedics in larger communities, and the first full-time community paramedicine positions. A total of 99 BC communities have now been selected for community paramedicine services.

Community FAQs

How were communities selected?

Community selection for the rollout was guided by the program's key objectives.

How do patients access a community paramedic?

Patients are referred by their primary care physician or other member of the local health care team.

Do community paramedics have special training?

All community paramedics hold at least a Primary Care Paramedic license with IV endorsement, and complete a specialized orientation program.

Community Paramedicine in British Columbia

Helping to improve health care in rural communities

Community Paramedicine

British Columbia is improving access to health care in rural and remote communities by expanding the role of qualified paramedics.

Community paramedics provide primary care services to increase access to basic health care services in non-urgent settings, in patients' homes or the community. This is done within their training and experience and in partnership with local health care providers.

Community paramedicine in BC is intended primarily for older patients living with chronic conditions such as heart failure, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and diabetes; or for patients at risk for falls or in need of palliative support.

Benefits for BC

- ✓ Better access to health care for rural and remote communities
- ✓ Paramedics work alongside other health care professionals without overlapping roles
- ✓ Fewer hand-offs between health care professionals
- ✓ Fewer gaps in health care services
- ✓ Fewer medically unnecessary 911 calls and trips to emergency departments
- ✓ Improved recruitment and retention of paramedics in rural and remote communities

Community Paramedicine Services

Community paramedics provide the following services in their communities.

Community Outreach & Awareness

Getting to know the local community and neighbouring First Nations communities, and helping them understand how community paramedicine can improve access to health care, is the first priority. Community paramedics work with health care providers in the area to identify service gaps, and how together they can improve the health of residents, particularly older residents with chronic conditions

Health Promotion

Encouraging patients to take responsibility for managing their own care and treatment – where safe and appropriate to do so – is an important step in improving health outcomes. This is a role community paramedics can readily assume, along with providing seminars on CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) and using an AED (automated external defibrillator).

Wellness Checks

Older people living on their own, often with little or no support, may need someone to check in on occasion to see how they're doing. Regular visits from a community paramedic can help these patients live longer in their homes, reduce their reliance on medically unnecessary 911 calls, and help ensure they stay connected with their primary care physician. Patients are referred by their doctor or other community health care provider, with the service provided at no cost to the patient.

Wellness Clinics

Many communities host wellness clinics and/or medical check-ins for patients with specific health issues such as diabetes. By participating in these events, community paramedics can take on some of the services that will allow other health care professionals – such as doctors, nurses, and dietitians – to spend even more time with their patients.

Community Paramedicine Home Health Monitoring

BCeHS is participating in the provincial Home Health Monitoring (HHM) program. Through technology-enabled monitoring of key health indicators, HHM extends the capacity of community paramedics to provide chronic disease management support to a wider range of older adults in rural and remote communities. To learn more about the HHM program in your area, talk to your community paramedic or primary health care provider.

Mayors and Regional District Chairs of British Columbia

Dear Mayors and Chairs:

I am writing to you to provide you with an overview of the proposed legislative amendments in Bill 26, the Municipal Affairs Statutes Amendment Act (No. 2), 2021 that was introduced by Minister Josie Osborne in the B.C. Legislature today.

Bill 26 proposes amendments to various pieces of provincial legislation including the Community Charter and the Local Government Act among other acts. The amendments will address a variety of topics including:

- new tools to help local governments support housing supply by streamlining their development approval processes,
- modernized public notice requirements,
- the requirement for councils and boards to consider codes of conduct, and
- community specific amendments including allowing the dissolution of the Jumbo Glacier Mountain Resort Municipality.

Together, the amendments in this bill will have meaningful impact by providing authorities that support efficient and effective local government operations. These amendments address issues not contemplated by existing legislation, and they will enable local governments to respond to circumstances in their community and provide new tools to increase the efficiency and timelines of housing development.

The Province's news release and information bulletin for the legislation are available here:

<https://news.gov.bc.ca/25595>

<https://news.gov.bc.ca/25596>

Progress of Bill 26 in the B.C. Legislature can be tracked here.

Here are further details regarding the items in Bill 26. I will send a circular with further technical details on the amendments to local government Chief Administrative Officers shortly.

Development Approvals Process Review

To support the streamlining of local government development approvals process and increased housing supply, this bill proposes legislation to remove the default requirement for local governments to hold public hearings for zoning bylaws that are consistent with an official community plan and enable local governments to delegate minor development variance permits to local government staff.

The Province initiated the Development Approvals Process Review (DAPR) to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of development approvals as a way to support the affordability and timeliness of new housing supply getting to market. Stakeholders who participated in DAPR consultations identified process improvement in relation to public hearings and delegation of authority in certain matters from council to municipal staff as two initial areas of action that could have an impact on streamlining development approvals.

Modernizing Public Notice Requirements

We have heard from local governments that the existing notice requirements under local government legislation do not fully meet community needs and the realities of modern electronic communication, particularly in smaller and rural communities.

Bill 26 addresses these concerns by modernizing the options for providing statutory notice to citizens, similar to other provinces. The bill creates a new “local choice” option for local governments to determine and specify, by bylaw, the means of public notice that will have the broadest reach in their communities. This change recognizes that local governments are in the best position to determine how to notify and engage community members and provide greater flexibility for them to reach a wider audience.

Where the existing rules are working well for communities, there will be no requirement to change, and they may continue to use the newspapers for notice. However, the new rules provide additional choices and modernized options for communities that determine they have need for additional or alternative approaches.

Code of Conduct

The bill contains changes that aim to strengthen the responsible conduct of local elected officials. Codes of conduct set shared expectations for behaviour, and these amendments will add a new requirement for all municipal councils and regional district boards to publicly consider the development of a code of conduct for their council or board members.

Currently, there is no requirement for local governments to develop codes of conduct or engage in a conversation about having a code of conduct. The changes in this bill create a standardized process for elected officials to engage in regular and meaningful dialogue about how they will govern together while demonstrating their accountability to the public.

The proposed approach has been developed through a joint Ministry Working Group with UBCM and LGMA and responds to calls for more tools to strengthen local government responsible conduct and was supported through an endorsed resolution of the membership of the Union of BC Municipalities at the September 2021 Convention.

These changes will not take effect until a regulation to bring them into force is passed – likely in Spring 2022. Additional guidance material will be provided to local governments when the changes are brought into force.

Dissolution of Jumbo Glacier Mountain Resort Municipality

Amendments in this bill will enable the dissolution of the Jumbo Glacier Mountain Resort Municipality (Jumbo). Jumbo was incorporated as a mountain resort municipality in 2013, with no residents, to facilitate the development of a ski resort in the Jumbo Valley.

Specialized provisions are required for the dissolution of Jumbo as the existing authorities are not sufficient to dissolve a municipality without residents or to accommodate changes to revert this area to the Regional District of East Kootenay. The amendments will also repeal the authority to incorporate a mountain resort municipality without residents, like Jumbo, in the future.

The provisions in this bill to enable the dissolution of the municipality at Jumbo are also integral to the agreement between the province and the Ktunaxa Nation to create an Indigenous Protected and Conserved Area in the Jumbo Valley.

Islands Trust Act Amendments

Bill 26 includes amendments to the Islands Trust Act that address specific requests made by the Islands Trust. The amendments will support effective governance by ensuring the Islands Trust is able to meet its specialized mandate to “preserve and protect” the Trust Area.

The Islands Trust has demonstrated leadership in reconciliation efforts in its dealings with First Nations’ interests in Islands Trust governance and activities. The proposed changes in this bill amend the Islands Trust Act to include a specific reference to First Nations in the Trust’s objective statement in the Act to recognize and enshrine its ongoing relationship and reconciliation efforts with First Nations.

Amendments will also enable the Islands Trust to provide financial support to third parties for activities that provide education about or preserve the environment and unique amenities of the Trust Area. This ability to support community efforts to educate about the Islands Trust environment and unique amenities complement the existing ability to support heritage and history projects that already exists in the Act.

And finally, the proposed amendments will streamline development approvals processes in the Islands Trust by enabling local trust committees to adopt and amend Development Approval Information bylaws. This change is consistent with other authorities of Local Trust Areas in the Trust and will create efficiencies in approval processes.

Powell River Incorporation Act

Bill 26 adds new targeted amendments to the unique statute incorporating the City of Powell River – the Powell River Incorporation Act (PRIA) - as requested by the City of Powell River. The PRIA contains extensive limitations on municipal regulation of the mill in Powell River and the “Mill Site” area of the City. These provisions protected the operations of the pulp mill at the time of incorporation but reduced activity of the mill and transfer of mill lots to the City have made these restrictions a constraint on economic development of those lots – now owned by the City.

The proposed amendments will support the City’s economic development objectives by removing city owned parcels from the “Mill Site” area to allow for further development of those parcels. This proposal is supported by the current mill owner, Paper Excellence and the Tla’amin First Nation.

I trust you find this information helpful, and I also appreciate you communicating back this information from the province to your councils and boards, to your local government staff and to your communities.

VILLAGE OF PORT ALICE REPORT TO COUNCIL

To: Public Works Committee
From: CAO / CFO
Date: October 29, 2021
Subject: Murals on Propane Tanks

David Dick from Port Alice Gas recently went to Churchill Manitoba and was impressed with the murals he saw that were part of the Sea Walls Churchill project. David called me this week and asked if Council would support murals being painted on the Port Alice Gas propane tanks at the entrance to the Village.

David also talked to Pat English, the Economic Development Officer, at the Regional District of Mount Waddington who suggested that the murals could be partially funded through the Rural Tourism Action Grant program which provides matching grants up to $5,000. To receive this matching grant revenue the project would have to be a Village of Port Alice initiative.

The proposal from David, as discussed with Pat English, is that Port Alice Gas would "donate" the surface of the propane tanks to a community tourism initiative. In my initial conversation with David he also said that Port Alice Gas would be willing to contribute some money to the cost of the project. Pat has suggested that an advisory committee be formed to determine details.

Some things for Council to consider when deciding whether to participate in the project are; the scope of the project, for example whether all businesses / organizations in Port Alice would be given an opportunity to participate, how the project would be funded and staff capacity to manage the project.

SEA WALLS CHURCHILL

SEAWALLS CHURCHILL was created with the intention to educate and inspire a community to protect the ocean, but what transpired was more powerful than that. It is the story of a small town on the edge of the Arctic being reminded of their value and worthiness in this world.

In the planning for over a year, SEAWALLS CHURCHILL was curated and coordinated by Winnipeg artist KAL BARTESKI in conjunction with the PangeaSeed Foundation. This project was made possible by title sponsor Travel Manitoba and a host of generous supporters. The idea: bring a team of recognized public artists together to learn about the challenges a remote community faces living on an ocean coast - then have them create a series of large murals set to change the visual landscape and inspire ocean-health conversation. SEAWALLS CHURCHILL took place June 16-26, 2017.

Three weeks before the festival, the rail line was washed out and the project was unable to bring up needed equipment including four lifts, 700 sets of scaffolding, rollers, paint brushes, ladders, buckets and 500 cans of spray paint. Without the necessary equipment and combined with the lack of food supplies from the train derailment - the town (and the project) were in peril.

Instead, the town saved the project by matching the artists willingness to give by donated equipment, sharing supplies and volunteering hours. This is a story that starts with ocean health, but dives deeply into the resilient and generous character of a small Northern community.

MURALS + ARTIST STATEMENTS

1. "HUMAN NATURE"

ARTIST: ASKEW ONE / NEW ZEALAND.

LOCATION: Port of Churchill green building

Artist statement: My wall is a play on the phrase 'Human Nature', it's the universal excuse used to justify everything we're doing wrong in this world - you know, like "it's just human nature to..." insert miscellaneous bad thing here. But this is also a play on Human and Nature - the precarious balance between the two.

Churchill is a town where this is the underlying drama at all times. It's a town so dependent on the natural environment and it's wildlife and is simultaneously threatened by it too. Everything in Churchill has a duality, a total double edge to it. The text on the mural illustrates this tension and also draws from the parallels in texture of both the natural and industrial environments of the town.

artist instagram: @askewone / website: askew1.com

FACT: Askew travelled through 5 countries before arriving in Churchill at the halfway point. His mural took 3 days and he stood on a flat deck attached to a forklift because there were no lifts options available.

2. "THE ROPE"

ARTIST: CASE MACLAIM / GERMANY

LOCATION: Port of Churchill green building

Artist statement: The piece describes the present-day situation of living in a remote coastal area of the world that is both dependent on nature and suffering from a man-made tragedy. It addresses the melting permafrost which is unsuitable for building infrastructure on, such as railways. In addition to this, massive storms and floodings are washing away the railroads making them unable to use for transportation of goods and people.

In the early spring of this year, Churchill was hit by two historic blizzards, and the resulting meltwater caused the railway to wash away in several areas last month. Now, the government and the American rail corporation are arguing over who will repair the rail, Churchill's lifeline.

For Churchill, this means that their lifeline that supplies the community with food, water, medicine, and employment, is out of commission indefinitely. The train line is the most important connection to keep the city of Churchill alive and the community employed. Many people are currently out of work and from what they say, the railroad won't be repaired within the year.

My painting touches on the issue of the railway, by showing port workers balancing like tightrope dancers on the washed away railway. It stands as a metaphor for how fragile life can be in subarctic terrain and how essential the railway and our oceans are for the survival of the people.

artist instagram: @case\_maclaim / website: case-maclaim.com

FACT: Case spent many hours discussing the rail situation with community members before staging a photo to use as reference for his mural. He used local characters in authentic gear as reference and to create the realism he is known for. He reluctantly declined a beluga boat tour because he didn't want to lose painting hours.

3. "THE BEAR"

ARTIST: LI-HILL / CANADA

LOCATION: Port of Churchill green building

Artist statement: "On my last day in Churchill this gorgeous wall called me. I managed to put this image up that has haunted me for years now. Calling out amid extinction, the silent roar dissolving into the fog of memory." Li-Hill

Side note: In an epic finish, Li-Hill created this mural in ONE DAY in a steady drizzling rain by using the last of the available paint supplies.

artist instagram: @li-hill / website: li-hill.com

FACT: Li-Hill, painted this in less than 6 hours, IN THE RAIN, exposed to both the Hudson Bay and the Churchill River winds, using mostly aerosol BBQ paint from the Home Hardware store.

4. "POWER OF NATURE"

ARTIST: ARLIN GRAFF / BRAZIL

LOCATION: A Block

Artist statement: In my work, I reconstruct animals using pieces and fragments. I see it as a way of trying to fix what we have destroyed in nature. Painting them in large scale is a friendly way of asking for respect, and making people feel small when faced with the grandeur of nature.

Using vibrant colors helps gain the attention of the viewer without asking permission first, a technique I have brought with me from the graffiti era to invade space and get my message across.

artist instagram: @arlin_graff / website: arlingraff.com

FACT: Arlin was the first artist to project his image on to the building. It was midnight, but the community came out of their homes in amazement to watch. You could hear the applause and excitement from the Tundra Pub.

5. "THE LAST WINTER"

ARTIST: DULK (Antonio Segura Donat) / SPAIN

LOCATION: B Block

Artist statement: The increased melting of the Arctic, caused by global warming, threatens the survival of polar bears. Polar bears need ice to walk, hunt and breastfeed their young. If there is no ice there is no rest, no food, and death begins to persecute them. The melting of the ice sheets forces them to swim for hundreds of miles, which poses a great risk to the cubs.

This mural painted in Churchill, Manitoba (Canada), a place considered The Polar Bear Capital of the World, represents the forced journey of a family of bears and belugas during their last winter on Earth. The cub grabs its treasured iceberg, which helps it to escape from the human impact on Earth.

artist instagram: @dulk1 / website: dulk.es

FACT: When Antonio was told he could only have the lift for 1.5 days he started at the top right corner and worked downward painting in a "finished" style (like an inkjet printer). This is not his regular process (and an incredibly difficult method) but he worked expertly with the equipment and time available.

6. "WE SWIM IN THE SAME WATERS"

ARTIST: CHARLES JOHNSTON / CANADA (WINNIPEG)

LOCATION: A Block

Artist statement: Spirit in the water, spirit in the sky, spirit on the earth, all are connected.

My piece is about ancestral legacy, what was passed on to us and what we will leave for our children's children. She may be the Creator or Sedna the Inuit goddess of the sea. She may be Jessie Tootoo, a healer or grandmother.

Whoever she is, from her open hands the Aurora is unleashed, the ethereal cosmic voice of the ancestors speaking to us. The beluga swims through the aurora, a spirit guide legacy reminding us of what is truly valuable and worthy.

artist instagram: @c5charlie / website: charliejohnston.ca

FACT: Charlie is one of Canada's most recognizable mural artists working in the industry for more than 30 years.

During the festival, community members shared the connection they felt through Charlie's mural to the memories of a young girl named Danica who died tragically the year before. Charlie dedicated this mural to her.

7. "THE FINAL DESTINATION"

ARTIST: STORM ANGECONEB / CANADA (WINNIPEG)

LOCATION: Town Square (old S&M grocery store)

Artist statement: I wanted to pay homage to the more than 250 species of birds in the Churchill area.

artist instagram: @storm\_eee

FACT: Stormy was the youngest artist in the group at only 18 years old.

8. "FOOTPRINT"

ARTIST: MANDY VAN LEEUWEN / CANADA (WINNIPEG)

LOCATION: Seaport Hotel, Kelsey BLVD

Artist statement: Celebrating the resilience of the north throughout the passage of time, a place man and nature meet, where humans choose to walk together or face a great divide. As they navigate the unknown climate, government & corporate challenges that will shape their future.

artist instagram: @mandy\_vanleeuwen /
website: mandyvanleeuwen.com

FACT: Mandy used local community members as reference for her mural. She had to climb over loose stones and large rocks in order to complete her mural.

09. "ENCOUNTERS AT THE END OF THE WORLD"
ARTIST: KELSEY ELIASSEN / CANADA

LOCATION: WEBBER LODGE GARAGE Kelsey BLVD

Artist statement: I paint the dreams and the memories of wildlife encounters; bold primary colours translate the emotional impact of these moments.

The bears stand as a record of Churchill as it is today, they are based on real bears that I have met over the years. This trinity may be seen as the 'Father Son and Holy Ghost' of Churchill's main drag, as watchers presiding over Churchill's fate or simply as the three sides of every northern story.

As the two first bears weather and likely disappear, the ever-present beluga whales will emerge to take their place as the focal point of the piece. The third bear will also remain, as a somewhat mysterious and judgmental figure.

SIDE NOTE: Kelsey is a bear guide, photographer, and filmmaker who splits his time between Churchill and Whitehorse.

artist instagram: @polarbearalley / website: polarbearalley.com

FACT: Kelsey starred in the reality series filmed in Churchill titled: POLAR BEAR TOWN

10. "KNOW I'M HERE"
ARTIST: GEORGIA HILL / AUSTRALIA

LOCATION: Abandoned naval base, Kelsey BLVD

Artist statement: My artwork for Sea Walls Churchill focuses on climate change and its impact on our sense of place. Churchill as a town has been struggling through the direct consequences of melting sea ice, blizzards and flooding, affecting not only people's livelihood and morale, but also the future of the unique sea life the town works alongside.

My goal was to create an artwork that subtly references the sea ice of Hudson Bay, along with the rock textures of Inukshuks built by Canada's indigenous people, which are used to navigate and reference land, water and locations.

The phrasing 'Know I'm Here' creates a strong message of valuing the people of Churchill, but also communicating to all people that we need to read the water and world around us in order to know our place and take actions to nurture what we have been given.

artist instagram: @georgiahillbth / website: georgiahill.com.au

FACT: Georgia painted this 400 foot long heavily corrugated metal building completely BY HERSELF. Her lift was donated for her use by the Mayor of Churchill.

11. "PUMP"

ARTIST: TAKASHI IWASAKI / JAPAN (WINNIPEG)

LOCATION: Pump House - Churchill, Manitoba

My artwork addresses the circulation of water in the world in connection to the Pump House on which my mural is painted. The water travels from the Pump House to the faucet, to the people, back to the ocean, plants, and back to the Pump House again. We are all connected and depend on the health of our water supplies and sources to survive. Simply put, water is life.

artist instagram: @the.takashi.iwasaki /

website: takashiwasaki.info

FACT: Takashi used the water from the pond behind his mural and also created beautiful sketches of the other artists during the festival.

12. "HOPEFUL WAITING"

ARTIST: PAT LAZO / CANADA (Winnipeg)

LOCATION: Town Recycling Center

Artist statement: The Polar Bear sits in a vast field of fireweed and awaits the return of the ice just as the people of Churchill await the repair of the recently damaged rail line; a vital link to their livelihood and access to essentials.

The bear is flanked by the arctic sea ice on one side and open water on the other, and sits beneath the Aurora Borealis. Despite the changing climate, the bear appears strong and hopeful signifying optimism for humanity to take action on climate change.

artist instagram: @patlazo / website: patlazo.com

FACT: Pat's wall was exceptionally challenging as he needed bear monitors, extreme bug protection and to be alert for the ornery and large guard dogs on site.

13. "ON THE BRINK"

ARTIST: LI-HILL / CANADA

LOCATION: Town Recycling Center

Artist statement: The tension between human societies and the natural environment is a reoccurring theme in my work. In a town such as Churchill, built directly on the central migration route of polar bears, this tension is not only prevalent but exacerbated.

For my piece I have depicted two scenes, a local conservation officer from the town and a flurry of Polar bears, Canadian Eskimo dogs and or wolves. Poised to shoot cracker shells, the main tool to scare off bears, the uniform and stance of the officer allude to times of hunting and stand for human aggression.

In this case aggression used to protect both bears and humans alike. On the right side is a flurry of Polar bears and Canadian Eskimo dogs or wolves (depending on what you see). In the town of Churchill there is an added tension due to one figure's rearing practices attempting to save an overlooked species, the Canadian Eskimo dogs. Put to the brink of extinction by the Canadian government, this animal, which for thousands of years ensured survival in the north, is also at risk and together with the polar

FACT: Especially inspired by the Canadian Eskimo Dogs at Mile 5 and the passionate bear talks by Churchill's Conservation Officer - Aaron Li-Hill used photos he took of both the dogs and the officer to create this mural. He also used a precarious lift nicknamed MAD MAX to reach the great heights of his wall.

In the context of the town and specifically the recycling center where this mural was painted, the interaction between bears and conservation officers are extremely common and the reading of this piece becomes more specific. In the broader context and more central to theme is the fact the image radiates outward from a division line. Instead of man vs nature here, it is two sides of the same coin. Both humans and endangered species are in a state of fight or flight. A heightened sense of emergency due to climate change and the long list of global issues place everything in a precarious position. In a town such as Churchill the tensions are local but the story is global.

artist instagram: @li-hill / website: li-hill.com

FACT: Aaron Li-Hill is a vegetarian, but he (alongside Jason Sivixay and Lana Bakun) BBQed over 500 hot-dogs and hamburgers for the town of Churchill. It was a blustery day, but the entire community showed up to "break bread" with the artists who had arrived to paint the town. This BBQ was sponsored in full by The Northern Store.

14. "IMPACT" / PART 1

ARTISTS: KAI KAULUKUKUI HAWAII • CRACKED INK / UK

LOCATION: Town Recycling Centre - Churchill, Manitoba.

Artists statement: The beluga whales seem so peaceful and playful swimming up and down the shores of Churchill, its easy to forget some of the dangers they may face in their aquatic homes. There are a few threats that are directly affected by our actions and can be slowed or eliminated with a bit of care, and one of them is fishing debris.

Mr. Crackedink and myself decided to bring this topic into view and hopefully start a discussion that moves any fisherman to consider his waste and dispose of it properly.

SIDE NOTE: These two artists were also the dedicated operations team, mixing paint, building scaffolding, making sure the equipment and mechanical pieces of the project ran smoothly.

artist instagram: @artworkofkai / website: kailikaulukukui.com

FACT: This mural was created in less than a day by the operations team at the very end of the festival when most of the other walls were complete.

16. "PEACE + CIRCUMSTANCE"

ARTIST: KAL BARTESKI / CANADA (WINNIPEG)

LOCATION: Polar Bear Holding Facility

Artist statement: My artwork for Sea Walls Churchill focuses on the conservation and respect of the polar bear. My goal was to create a piece using the building's architecture and location (on the highest hill in the community) to portray a larger than life polar bear peacefully asleep as the world operates around her.

The relaxed pose and vibrant yellow colour of the bear is what would typically be seen during a subarctic sunset.

The location of this bear, on the polar bear holding facility, highlights the intensity and necessity of wildlife management along polar bear migration paths where polar bears, the largest predators in the world, continue to adapt to the shameful realities of our consumer-driven culture.

SIDE NOTE: Kal Barteski was the coordinator and curator of the SEA WALLS CHURCHILL project. She fundraised over $150,000 to make this project possible. In 2016, she started the POLAR BEAR FUND to support non-invasive and innovative polar bear projects at a community level in Churchill. polarbearfund.ca

FACT: This mural can be clearly seen from the air when landing or departing Churchill.

FACT: one painting day was so windy that gallon pails of paint were blowing off the scaffolding.

FACT: the entire wall was done with a 2 inch brush.

FACT: You can see as many as 6 of the other murals, the Hudson Bay, the Churchill River and the Northern Studies Centre from this site.

17. #CAMP10

ARTIST: JASON BOTKIN / CANADA

Location: Mile 5

Artist statement: The mural is an homage to #camp10, and the Sayisi Dene First Nation Aboriginal peoples of Canada, who were forcibly relocated to Churchill around the time this base was operational.

A tragic and too largely unknown chapter in Canada's sordid history with its indigenous population.

Featured here are a couple of stylized caribou antlers, carried away in a river of 'ribbons'. Hands of a skeletal figure offered up in prayer. According to the Manitoba Government, the tragic decision to relocate the Dene community at Duck Lake was due to incorrect assumptions from wildlife officials about the impact of the Dene's traditional hunting practices on what was in fact a healthy caribou herd.

This homage to #camp10, and the Sayisi Dene Features a quote from Elder Betsy Anderson (tadule lake, MB): "There was a time when all the people and all the animals understood each other and spoke the same language. ("Yanizj Denesutiné chu t'ch'adie j'aghe yati hot'a etnedäreni hél tth'i etedári tth'agh nishj.") artist instagram: @robotkin / website: jasonbotkin.com/

FACT: Jason Botkin was instrumental in making this festival a reality. He and Kal Barteski visited each site in 2016 to assess the needs and challenges that would face each artist.

FACT: Jason was named to the Governor General's Leadership Program for 2017.

FACT: Jason Botkin, born in Winnipeg, now lives in Montreal. He is a notable Canadian artist exhibiting internationally.

Following the collapse of the economy, just like in Britain, it was more and more obvious that the village was not going to survive in the long term. So the Council said that the Council will now be the backbone economy that will sustain the town. So now, a dozen sectors were thought to be able to take the town from there, and so the hierarchy is, first, the doctors, then the lawyers, the accountants, the engineers, the architects, the film of goods, scientists, and even Council workers, and doctors, and engineers, and architects, and so on. Council 4, Prime Council, began thinking, "So what are the sectors to do?" Council 4, Prime Council, wants that the town will not become a psychological waste to the village. Council 5, which is actually between Council 4 and Council 6, is not that tall, the truth

Mayors and Regional District Chairs of British Columbia

Dear Mayors and Chairs:

I am pleased to announce that the Province of British Columbia recently launched the CleanBC Roadmap to 2030. Building on actions in our 2018 CleanBC plan, the Roadmap to 2030 is a stronger, more ambitious climate plan to reach our 2030 emissions reductions targets and build a strong, low-carbon economy.

The Roadmap to 2030 includes actions across eight pathways including: low-carbon energy; transportation; buildings; communities; industry; agriculture, aquaculture and fisheries; forest bioeconomy; and negative emissions technologies. Highlights of the Roadmap include:

- New requirements to make all new buildings net-zero emissions by 2030
- A nation leading adoption of zero-emission vehicles with 90 percent ZEVs by 2030 and 100 percent by 2035
- An accelerated shift towards active transportation and public transit
- A commitment to increase the price on carbon pollution to meet or exceed the federal benchmark, with supports for people and businesses
- Requirements for new industry projects to have enforceable plans to reach net-zero emissions by 2050
- Stronger regulations that will nearly eliminate industrial methane emissions by 2035
- Increased clean fuel and energy efficiency requirements
- A Clean Transportation Action Plan will support emission reductions by focusing on efficiency-first transportation options

Local governments across B.C. have consistently shown leadership and commitment to taking action on climate change. Continuing the partnership between local governments and the province is key to achieving our shared goals. The Roadmap to 2030 highlights the prominent role that communities have in reaching those goals and commits to establishing a new program in 2022 to support local government climate actions through flexible, predictable funding.

The expanded climate actions in the Roadmap to 2030 will accelerate our transition to a net-zero future and ensure we meet B.C.'s legislated greenhouse gas target of 40 percent below 2007 levels by 2030. To learn more and to read the CleanBC Roadmap to 2030, please visit: www.cleanbc.gov.bc.ca and read the news release.

I would also like to share with you the 2021 Climate Change Accountability Report. The report includes detailed information on CleanBC progress over the 2020-2021 period to reduce carbon pollution, prepare for climate impacts and create low-carbon economic opportunities for people across B.C. It also includes emissions data for the 2019 reporting year.

Sincerely,

Josie Osborne

Dear Mayor Cameron and Council:

As the Provincial Director of Child Welfare and Provincial Director of Adoption and Permanency, we are honoured to proclaim November as Adoption Awareness Month. This month is about raising awareness for adoption in British Columbia and celebrating the families who have welcomed children and youth as permanent members of their family.

Every child deserves the love and support of a nurturing family. November is about celebrating the adoptive families that have made a difference in the lives of children by providing care, guidance, and a sense of belonging. Adoptive families are committed to ensuring stability and sharing their love, whether that is in their role as parent, sibling, or extended family member.

November is also about recognizing that there are children who are still waiting for permanent homes. There continues to be a need for more adoptive families in British Columbia to offer their support to help children grow and develop into their full potential.

There are many online resources, information, and support services that can help families who are considering adoption. Adopt BC Kids is an online portal that allows British Columbians wishing to adopt children and youth from foster care to complete an adoption application. The Adoptive Families Association of British Columbia provides information and support services for families who wish to adopt now or in the future. We encourage you to share these resources with your community members who are interested in learning more about adoption or who are ready to open their hearts and homes.

Please join us in celebrating November as Adoption Awareness Month to recognize all the individuals who have grown their family and their hearts through adoption, and to all those who may do so in the future. On behalf of the Government of British Columbia, thank you for your continued leadership in supporting adoptive families in your community.

Sincerely,

Cory Heavener

British Columbia's Vancouver Island is home to unparalleled beauty and adventure. Thanks to the efforts of the Mid-Island ATV Club and Campbell River ATV Club, Vancouver Island's majesty is more accessible than ever before. These two ATV clubs have put in a tremendous amount of work to create the North Island 1000, a revolutionary 1,000-kilometre route through northern Vancouver Island, B.C.

Whether you ride a quad, dirt bike or side-by-side, the North Island 1000 is a must for any rider with a penchant for the exceptional, just ask UTV distance-jumping world record holder Al McBeth. The extreme stunt jumper and owner of Concept Distributing recently rode the North Island 1000 and shared his experience with RidersWest.

How do I access the trail for the North Island 1000? Where are the staging areas?

This ride follows a GPS track and provides staging areas around the Campbell River area on the map. Keep in mind many of these spots are some distance off the main roads so be prepared to leave your vehicle unattended.

The GPS route will keep you on the roads that your North Island 1000 permit is valid on. It is not recommended to leave the GPS route in these towns. This map will take you to fuel stations and necessities as needed.— Photo courtesy Al McBeth

What communities does the North Island 1000 go through? Am I able to drive an ATV or dirt bike through these communities?

This ride passes through the towns of Campbell River, Holberg, Gold River, Port Hardy, Tahsis, Port McNeill, Zeballos, Woss, Port Alice, Sayward and Coal Harbor.

Is there a recommended route to take (start point/end point) or can I pick up and go from various locations?

Although we started in Campbell River, there is no regulation as to where one would start or stop the course.

What do I need to take with me as I embark on the North Island 1000?

This is a long course, and although you can stay on fairly main logging roads throughout, there are many options to try more challenging terrain on this ride. Day trips off the main path will add time (and potential challenges) to your adventure. Towns are usually within range, but spare fuel is definitely recommended as well as food. Vehicle dependency will define which spare parts you bring as well.

Prepare to spend the night. Although hotels are available, the amazing camping areas we found along the way were a huge highlight.

Prepare for weather. The North Island's beauty is a direct result of precipitation, and weather reports can change quickly.

What is there to see along the North Island 1000?

There is tons of wildlife along the way so drive with care. From bears and deer to otters and beavers, keep your camera out. Old mines, quarries, dams and towns with a rich cultural history makes it hard to keep your eyes on the road at times.

How long does it take to ride the North Island 1000?

It took us five days to do this trip but we easily could have spent two weeks. There is just so much to take in. To properly film this adventure, it would probably be more like three weeks. So many epic camp spots were passed up because we were on a bit of a schedule.

Trails are constantly being built to expand this riding area and add even more to an already epic ride.

What was your experience riding the North Island 1000? Did it meet your expectations?

The trip exceeded our expectations. Overlanding on a UTV is tough to beat. So many breathtaking views on the trip to take in from sea to sky and so many different things available to do. This trip was not as ocean-orientated as we originally thought, but the inland fresh water more than made up for it. We brought paddle boards for the lakes, but swimming in the rivers was a huge hit too. The amount of freshwater on this run is mind blowing, and our first two days were mainly spent jumping in every river and lake we passed. Fishing, sightseeing, rallying and technical four-by-fouring will all add thrill to the adventure.

It is very rare to have this sort of ride here in B.C. The Mid-Island and Campbell River ATV clubs have jumped through huge hoops and spent generous time to make this all possible for us legally and geographically. Please ride appropriately on this adventure and have respect for the locals and communities as you pass through.
